John Julius Norwich

The Middle Sea

2007, PAPER, 720 PAGES, $20.00

A marvelous writer who has already tackled Byzantium, the Normans in Sicily and Venice, Norwich spins his magic in this story of culture, trade and politics, royalty and rulers, wars and religion in the Mediterranean. (Item MED98)

Mary Beard

The Fires of Vesuvius, Pompeii Lost and Found

2010, PAPER, 384 PAGES, $17.95

With the panache of a gifted classicist, Mary Beard (Wonders of the World) conjures daily life in celebrated Pompeii, not only demolishing with particular relish the many myths that have grown up around the place but also emphasizing the limits of our knowledge. Some things we simply shall never know for certain. (Item ITA46)

Ellen Grady

Blue Guide Sicily

Poetry, prose and literature over the ages, arranged geographically with an excellent introduction and commentary. Stoneman artfully weaves together hundreds of short excerpts. (Item GRE06)

Tommaso Astarita

Between Salt Water and Holy Water, A History of Southern Italy

2005, PAPER, 352 PAGES, $22.95

Astarita captures the fanfare, rivalry and changing fortunes of Sicily from antiquity through Norman, Spanish and Bourbon rule to unification and the 20th century. (Item ITL597)

Sandra Benjamin

Sicily, Three Thousand Years of Human History

2007, PAPER, 498 PAGES, $19.95

With clarity and authority, Benjamin traces the rich legacy of the Greeks and Romans, Vandals and Goths, Arab traders, Normans, Bourbons and others who have contributed to the multi-faceted history of the kingdom of Sicily. (Item ITL731)

Fausto Longo, Lorena Jannelli, Luca Cerchiai

The Greek Cities of Magna Graecia and Sicily

2004, HARD COVER, 288 PAGES, $45.00

An engaging history of the Western Greek colonies in Sicily and southern Italy in the eighth and seventh centuries B.C., featuring 240 magnificent color illustrations, maps and a site-by-site review of major archaeological sites. (Item ITL751)

Michael Grant

The Ancient Mediterranean

1990, PAPER, 374 PAGES, $20.00

Grant explores the realms of archaeology, geography, art and economics to sketch this classic portrait of the ancient world, from prehistory through the Roman Imperium, and the influence on western civilization. (Item MED10)

Jordan Lancaster

In the Shadow of Vesuvius

2008, PAPER, 288 PAGES, $16.95

A sparkling portrait of Naples from its volcanic origins to its lively present. Lancaster's cultural history explores the city's tumultuous past, its spirited inhabitants and the mythical allure that's drawn so many travelers to its siren song. (Item ITL969)

Steven Runciman

The Sicilian Vespers

1992, PAPER, 355 PAGES, $21.99

A spellbinding history of the 13th-century Kingdom of Sicily. The massacre of the French at Palermo, known as the Sicilian Vespers, is the springboard for the author's sweeping depiction of the Mediterranean in the late 1200s. (Item ITL295)

Raleigh Trevelyan

Companion Guide Sicily

2009, PAPER, 624 PAGES, $34.95

This comprehensive, serious-minded guide to the architecture, art and culture of Sicily, combines descriptions of the major attractions with Trevelyan's many anecdotes and references to writers over the ages who have been enchanted by the island of Sicily. (Item ITL04)

Johann Wolfgang Von Goethe

Italian Journey, 1786-1788

1992, PAPER, 498 PAGES, $17.00

"Sicily is the key to everything" is just one of Goethe's many astute observations included in this Penguin Classics edition of his journals and letters from his grand tour of southern Italy. (Item ITL144)

Cathy Gere, Mary Beard (Editor)

The Tomb of Agamemnon

2006, HARD COVER, 208 PAGES, $19.95

Shirley Hazzard

Greene on Capri, A Memoir

2001, PAPER, 160 PAGES, $15.00

This book is ultimately a memoir about the author's friendship with Graham Greene, but there's plenty of commentary of Capri's history and culture for those seeking a flavor of the place. (Item ITL440)

Peter Robb

Midnight in Sicily, On Art, Food, History, Travel and La Cosa Nostra

2007, PAPER, 400 PAGES, $17.00

Combining interviews, research and essays on Sicilian history and culture, this vivid report by journalist Peter Robb is a superb introduction to Italy's glorious, corrupt and troubled south. (Item ITL74)

Giuseppe di Lampedusa

The Leopard

2007, PAPER, 384 PAGES, $14.95

Evoking a lost world of privilege and tradition, Giuseppe di Lampedusa's evocative tale, set on a rural Sicilian estate during the days of independence, follows the world-weary Don Fabrizio, Prince of Salina. (Item ITL11)

Homer, Robert Fagles (Translator)

The Iliad

2002, PAPER, 704 PAGES, $17.00
