RENAISSANCE ITALY & HISTORIC ISLANDS

Rome to Seville

NON-FICTION

Colin McEvedy

New Penguin Atlas of Ancient History

ISBN: 9780140513486, Paperback

In a chronological series of maps and accompanying text it traces the movements of races in Europe, the Mediterranean area and the Near East from 50,000BC to the fourth century AD.

David S H Abulafia

The Great Sea

ISBN: 9780141977164, Paperback

For over three thousand years, the Mediterranean Sea has been one of the great centres of civilisation. David Abulafia's The Great Sea is the first complete history of the Mediterranean, from the erection of temples on Malta around 3500BC to modern tourism.

Mary Beard

SPQR: A History of Ancient Rome

ISBN: 9781846683817, Paperback

SPQR is a new look at Roman history from one of the world's foremost classicists. It explores not only how Rome grew from an insignificant village in central Italy to a power that controlled territory from Spain to Syria, but also how the Romans thought about themselves and their achievements, and why they are still important to us.

Robert Hughes

Rome

ISBN: 9780753823057, Paperback

The founding of Rome is shrouded in legend, but current archaeological evidence supports the theory that Rome grew from pastoral settlements and coalesced into a city in the 8th century BC. This book tells the story of the Eternal City, from its earliest days right up to the present.

Marcus Sidonius Falx with Jerry Toner

How to Manage Your Slaves

ISBN: 9781781252529, Paperback

At last, a clear manual for managing slaves the Roman way. In How to Manage Your Slaves, Marcus Sidonius Falx offers practical advice, showing where and how to buy slaves and how to get the best out of them. He explains how to tell good slaves from bad, offers guidance on the punishment of miscreants, and reveals the secrets of command and authority.

Elizabeth Bowen

A Time in Rome

ISBN: 9780099284956, Paperback

Elizabeth Bowen's account of a time spent in Rome is no ordinary guidebook but an evocation of a city – its history, its architecture and, above all, its atmosphere. She describes the famous classical sites, conjuring from the ruins visions of former inhabitants and their often bloody activities and speculates about the immense noise of ancient Rome, the problems caused by the Romans' dining posture, and the Roman temperament.

Brigitte Hintzen-Bohlen

Rome: Art & Architecture

ISBN: 9783848003204, Paperback

Even into the twentieth century, artists from every corner of the globe were magically drawn to Rome, which served as their model and inspiration. This is a guide, in which the magnificent panorama of the Eternal City unfolds before the readers' eyes.

Christopher Hibbert

The Borgias

ISBN: 9781849019941, Paperback

The name Borgia is synonymous with the corruption, nepotism and greed that were rife in Renaissance Italy. The powerful, voracious Rodrigo Borgia, better known to history as Pope Alexander VI, was the central figure of the dynasty. This title presents a portrait of the Borgia family.

Christopher Hibbert

The Rise and Fall of the House of Medici

ISBN: 9780140050905, Paperback

At its height, Renaissance Florence was a centre of enormous wealth, power and influence. A republican city-state funded by trade and banking, its often bloody political scene was dominated by rich mercantile families, the most famous of which were the Medicis. This enthralling book charts the family's huge influence on the political, economic and cultural history of Florence.

Edward Chaney

Florence: A Traveller's Reader

ISBN: 9781472141293, Paperback

The rich and glorious past of one of the best loved cities in the world, Florence, is brought vividly to life for today's visitor in this collection which draws on letters, diaries and memoirs of travellers to Florence and the Florentines themselves.

Ted Jones

Florence and Tuscany: A Literary Guide for Travellers

ISBN: 9781848858367, Hardback

Ted Jones explores the literary lives of Florence and Tuscany. He takes the reader on a journey retracing the footsteps of writers who have lived, or been inspired by the history and landscape of Tuscany.

Diana Athill

A Florence Diary

ISBN: 9781783783168, Hardback

In August 1947, Diana Athill travelled to Florence by the Golden Arrow train for a two-week holiday with her good friend Pen. In this playful diary of that trip, Athill recorded her observations and adventures – eating with (and paid for by) the hopeful men they meet on their travels, admiring architectural sights, sampling delicious pastries, eking out their budget and getting into scrapes.

Georgio Vasari

Lives of the Artists

ISBN: 9780199537198, Paperback

Packed with facts, attributions, and entertaining anecdotes about his contemporaries, Vasari's collection of biographical accounts also presents a highly influential theory of the development of Renaissance art. Beginning with Cimabue and Giotto, who represent the infancy of art, Vasari considers the period of youthful vigour, shaped by Donatello, Brunelleschi, Ghiberti and Masaccio, before discussing the mature period of perfection, dominated by the titanic figures of Leonardo, Raphael and Michelangelo.

Matthew Fort

Summer in the Islands: An Italian Odyssey

ISBN: 9781783523320, Hardback

The celebrated food and travel writer takes us through the culinary and cultural history of the 52 Italian islands – from Capri to Elba and Pianosa.

Mark Braude

The Invisible Emperor: Napoleon on Elba

ISBN: 9781781258026, Hardback

Few historical figures are as well-known as Napoleon Bonaparte, and yet the Emperor's ten-month exile on the small island of Elba is virtually unexplored. Now, for the first time, we have a window into this critical moment when the most powerful man on earth turns defeat into one final challenge.

Andrew Roberts

Napoleon the Great

ISBN: 9780141032016, Paperback

It has become all too common for Napoleon Bonaparte's biographers to approach him as a figure to be reviled, bent on world domination, practically a proto-Hitler. Here, after years of study extending even to visits paid to St Helena and 53 of Napoleon's 56 battlefields, Andrew Roberts has created a true portrait of the mind, the life, the military, and above all the political genius of a fundamentally constructive ruler.

Dorothy Carrington

Granite Island

ISBN: 9780141442273, Paperback

"Get away from here before you're completely bewitched and enslaved," Dorothy Carrington was told, while sitting in a fisherman's cafe at the magically quiet midday hour. But enslaved she was. Granite Island grew out of years spent in Corsica and is a vivid portrait of the island.

W.G. Sebald

Campo Santo

ISBN: 9780141017860, Paperback

A collection of essays which provide insight into the themes that came to dominate his life. It also includes four pieces that pay tribute to Corsica, weaving elegiacally between past and present.

Peter Kerr

Snowball Oranges

ISBN: 9781786850423, Paperback

When the Kerr family leave Scotland to grow oranges in a secluded valley on the island of Majorca, they are surprised to be greeted by the same freezing weather they have left behind. Then they realise that their new orange farm is a bit of a lemon. Laughter, finds Peter Kerr, is the best medicine when faced with a local dish of rats and the live-chicken-down-a-chimney technique of household maintenance. But their Majorcan neighbours help them adapt to their new life.

Steven Nightingale

Granada

ISBN: 9781857886313, Paperback

TRAVEL BOOK OF THE YEAR: INDEPENDENT AND TELEGRAPH
Literary and sensual, Steven Nightingale produces a portrait of Granada and the cyclical nature of darkness and light in the history of Andalusia.

Gerald Brenan

South from Granada

ISBN: 9780141189321, Paperback

Between 1920 and 1934, the author lived in the remote Spanish village of Yegen. This book depicts his time there, evoking the essence of his rural surroundings and the Spanish way of life before the Civil War. It portrays the landscapes, festivals and folklore of the Sierra Nevada, the rivalries, village customs, superstitions and characters.

Olivier Widmaier Picasso

Picasso: An Intimate Portrait

ISBN: 9781849765893, Hardback

This new biography paints a riveting portrait of Pablo Picasso, examining both his strengths and shortcomings as husband, lover and father. Olivier Widmaier Picasso's unique insight into the life of one of the twentieth century's most influential artists, details not only Picasso's hopes, fears and regrets, but also his certainties and commitments, his unique audacity, his happiness and his conflicts.

Robert Irwin

The Alhambra

ISBN: 9781861974877, Paperback

The Alhambra, the 'red fort' on its rocky hill above Granada, with its fountained courts and gardens, and intricate decoration, has long been a byword for exotic and melancholy beauty. This book examines its history.

Karen Armstrong

Islam: A Short History

ISBN: 9781842125830, Paperback

One of the world's foremost commentators on religious affairs on the history (and destiny) of the world's most misunderstood religion.

Brigitte Hintzen-Bohlen

Andalusia: Art and Architecture

ISBN: 9783848003266, Paperback

Seville, Cordoba, Cadiz or Malaga – Andalusia, at the crossroads of Europe and Africa, has figured prominently in the history of Europe and the Mediterranean. Many cultural phenomena that are seen internationally as distinctively Spanish are largely Andalusian in origin. This guide shows you all the hidden artistic and architectural gems of Andalusia.

John Gill

Andalucía: A Cultural History

ISBN: 9781904955443, Paperback

A garden at the foot of Europe and a crossroads between Spain, Africa and the New World, Andalusia has been a cultural customs house on the border of the Mediterranean and Atlantic civilisations for more than ten thousand years. This book covers the whole history of the region.

Norman Lewis

The Tomb in Seville

ISBN: 9781780600086, Paperback

In 1934, Norman Lewis and his brother-in-law Eugene Corvaja travelled across the breadth of Spain on what turned out to be the eve of the murderous civil war. Commissioned by his Sicilian father-in-law to locate the tomb of the last Spanish Corvaja in the cathedral of Seville, Lewis and his companion are quickly caught in the crossfire of a fractious country, sometimes literally. Lewis makes light of this and instead glories in the beauty of nature and the common humanity of the Spaniards he meets on the way.

Paul Sterry

Birds of the Mediterranean

This photoguide covers all the species occurring in the areas bordering the Mediterranean. This area holds a rich variety of habitat types and supports a range of highly characteristic species.

A new psychological and political thriller from the award-winning author of An Officer & A Spy, this provides a tense and insider analysis of the world's most secretive election: Conclave. "...A triumphant addition to Harris' acclaimed output." (David Gylls, Sunday Times).

Irving Stone

The Agony and the Ecstasy

ISBN: 9780099416272, Paperback

Michelangelo Buonarroti lived in the time of the turbulent Renaissance, the years of poisoning princes, warring popes, the powerful Medici family, and the fanatic monk Savonarola. Working with a God-driven fury he created "David", painted the Sistine ceiling, and was the architect of the dome of St Peter's.

Emylia Hall

The Thousand Lights Hotel

ISBN: 9781472212023, Paperback

When Kit loses her mother in tragic circumstances, she feels drawn to finally connect with the father she has never met. That search brings her to the Thousand Lights Hotel, the perfect holiday escape perched upon a cliff on the island of Elba. Within this idyllic setting, a devastating truth is brought to light, shaking the foundations upon which the hotel is built, and shattering the lives of the people within it.

Robert Wilson

The Blind Man of Seville

The first crime novel in Robert Wilson's Seville series, featuring the tortured detective Javier Falcon. A man is bound, gagged and dead in front of his television. The terrible self-inflicted wounds tell of his violent struggle to avoid some unseen horror. It's Easter week in Seville, a time of passion and processions. But detective Javier Falcon is not celebrating. Appalled by the victim's staring eyes he is inexorably drawn into this disturbing, mystifying case.

Lottie Moggach

Under the Sun

ISBN: 9781509815531, Paperback

An unforgettable novel about heartbreak, identity, migration and finding a place to call home. Anna gave up everything she had in London – her flat, her job, her friends – to run away to Spain and live the dream with the handsome, complicated artist she had fallen in love with. They were building a life together, renovating a beautiful finca in the mountains – but then Michael left, with little more than a note to say goodbye, and Anna's future crashed around her ears.
